Dear Sirs:

PETITION TO WITHDRAW HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT UNDER 37 CFR 1.137(b)

This is in response to the deemed abandonment of the above-identified Patent Application No. 10/782,174 (the "Application") for failure to rescind a nonpublication request within 45 days after the date of filing of a foreign application directed to the invention.

The abandonment of the application was unintentional for the reasons set out below.

At the time of filing the application, the Applicant had taken tremendous effort to keep the invention hidden from the public, and at the time of filing could see no advantages to making the application public until absolutely necessary. The Applicant prepared the Application pro se, using the book "Patent It Yourself" (9th edition by Nolo press) for guidance. When the Applicant initially filed the Application on February 20, 2004, he did not intend to file elsewhere. When making the request for nonpublication, he was unaware of the consequences of filing elsewhere and not rescinding the request.

Several months later the Applicant changed his mind and decided to also file a corresponding application in Canada (the country in which he lives). The Canadian application was filed on June 3, 2004. Because of his total lack of experience in prosecuting patent applications (the Application was his first exposure to patent applications, pro se or otherwise), he was unaware that he needed to timely rescind the nonpublication request.

On receiving an action from the Canadian Patent Office, the Applicant sought assistance from a law firm including patent agents. On realizing the nonpublication request had been filed and not rescinded following the Canadian filing, immediate steps have been taken to correct the error and file a rescission of previous nonpublication request.

The Applicant submits that given the above events, his inexperience in patent matters, and the publication of the corresponding Canadian application (providing public notice), the Applicant submits that the failure to rescind the nonpublication request within 45 days of the filing date of the Canadian application was unintentional and respectfully requests that the Petition to Withdraw the Holding of Abandonment be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

By:
